3 town clerk as provided in s. 8.37, the question shall be submitted to a vote.

*NOTE: Do you want to permit voters to consider the question at a special election as that term has been modified in this bill (see treatment of s. 5.02 (19))?

History: 1971 c. 304 s. 29 (2); 1973 c. 280; 1977 c. 340; 1977 c. 447 ss. 11, 210; 1979 c. 311; 1983 a. 484; 1985 a. 304; 1987 a. 391; 1989 a. 56, 192; 1991 a. 316; 1993

14 A special election is called that includes a call for a special referendum, the election 15 shall be noticed under s. 8.55.

History: 1979 c. 32; 1989 a. 192.

*NOTE: As amended, this section, together with s. 5.02 (19), permits a special referendum to be called, but only when a special election is being held for some other reason. Is that consistent with your intent? I have flagged and will continue to flag this issue at other points in the bill where current law permits a referendum to be held at a special election.

*NOTE: Note that current law permits the calling of special referendums under s.
8.55. Do you want to eliminate this authority? Or, alternatively, do you want to explicitly permit referendums to be scheduled concurrent with a special election?

16 SECTION 7. 8.065 of the statutes is created to read:

1

8.065 Scheduling of referenda. (1) In this section, "Local governmental

2

unit" means a political subdivision of this state, a special purpose district in this state, an instrumentality or corporation of such a political subdivision or special purpose district, a combination or subunit of any of the foregoing, or an instrumentality of the state and any of the foregoing.

(2) Unless otherwise required by law, a referendum held by any local governmental unit that is authorized or required by law to hold a referendum may only be held concurrently with the spring primary, spring election, partisan primary, or general election.

*NOTE: Do you want to, generally (in this scheduling provision), permit a referendum to be scheduled concurrent with a special election? Alternatively, the bill could identify specific circumstances in specific statutory provisions where a referendum may be called concurrent with a special election.

SECTION 8. 9.20 (4) of the statutes is renumbered 9.20 (4) (intro.) and amended to read:

11

12

9.20 (4) (intro.) The common council or village board shall, without alteration, either pass to the ordinance or resolution, do one of the following:

13

14

(a) Pass the ordinance or resolution within 30 days following the date of the 15

clerk's final certificate, ~~or submit it.~~

16

(b) Submit the ordinance or resolution to the electors at the next spring or ~~or~~ ^{a struck space}

17

general election, if the election is more than 6 weeks after the date of the council's

18

or board's action on the petition or the expiration of the 30-day period, whichever first occurs.

19

20

(c) If there are 6 weeks or less before the election, the ordinance or resolution shall be voted on at the next succeeding election thereafter. ~~The council or board by~~

21

22

~~a three-fourths vote of the members-elect may order a special election for the~~

23

~~purpose of voting on the ordinance or resolution at any time prior to the next election,~~

1 ~~but not more than one special election for direct legislation may be ordered in any~~
 2 ~~6-month period authorized under s. 8.065 (2).~~

NOTE: Currently, this section requires a vote on ~~an~~ ordinance or resolution, but does not explicitly require a referendum. Nevertheless, I amend it to require that the ordinance or resolution be considered at the next election authorized under s. 8.065 (2). Is that consistent with your intent?

NOTE: Do you want to permit voters to consider the ordinance or resolution at a special election as that term has been modified in this bill (see treatment of s. 5.02 (19))?

*NOTE: The opening clause of this paragraph under current law relates to a resolution adopted by the governing body of a town. For that reason, I strike three sentences in the body of this paragraph that seem misplaced; these sentences reference s. 62.237, which applies only to cities with a population greater than 75,000. I also simplify the references to the governing body of a town by substituting "town board." Let me know if you have any questions about these changes.

*NOTE: Do you want to permit voters to consider the resolution at a special election as that term has been modified in this bill (see treatment of s. 5.02 (19))?

*NOTE: Do you want to require a minimum amount of time between the adoption of an initial resolution and the election at which the referendum will be held?

14 as provided under sub. (15), if the common council of a city or the village board of a 15 village declares its purpose to raise money by issuing bonds for any purpose other 16 than those specified in this subsection, it shall direct by resolution, which shall be

 7 ~~city or village~~ electors of that municipality for their approval. The referendum shall 8 be held at the next succeeding election authorized under s. 8.065 (2).

*NOTE: I have eliminated the references to "city or village" in this paragraph to reflect changes made to s. 66.38, 1983 stats., by 1983 Wisconsin Act 27. Specifically, 1983 Act 27 changed the definition of municipality under s. 66.38 (1) (d), 1983 stats., to mean "any city with a population greater than 75,000." Section 66.38, 1983 stats., was renumbered s. 62.237 by 1983 Wisconsin Act 207, s. 1155n. The references in this paragraph to the electors of a "city or village" with respect to a low-interest mortgage loan under s. 62.237 are, therefore, inaccurate. Let me know if you have any questions about these changes.

* Representative Bernier :

This preliminary bill draft generally prohibits referenda from being held at special elections and, instead, requires referenda to be held at one of the four regularly scheduled elections: the partisan primary, the general election, the Spring primary, or the Spring election.

* The drafting instructions were somewhat open-ended, so please carefully review the draft to ensure that I have drafted the bill to accomplish your intent. I have embedded a number of in-text drafter's notes and questions for your consideration. The questions fall into three general categories:

1. Whether a referendum may be scheduled concurrently with a special election.

* Although the bill modifies the definition of "special election" to eliminate special elections at which only a referendum is held, the bill does not explicitly prohibit a special referendum from being called concurrent with a special election to fill vacancies. Current law and the bill do permit a special referendum to be called (see current law s. 8.55 and the treatment of s. 8.06 in this bill). However, I eliminated all references to "special election" in connection with specific referenda; as a result, no statutory provision remains that would explicitly permit a referendum to be called at a special election. Is this consistent with your intent?

* 2. Whether a statute that requires a vote on a question, a resolution or ordinance, an application, ~~for~~ a contract, but that does not explicitly require a referendum, should be treated as a referendum for purposes of scheduling.

In the bill, these votes must be held in accordance with the schedule for referenda. Is that consistent with your intent?

3. The amount of time that may or must pass between a specified action (the adoption of a resolution, the filing of a petition, etc.) and the scheduling of a referendum.

On the question of timing, current law varies quite a bit:

a. In some cases under current law, a referendum must be held no sooner than a certain number of days after, but no later than a certain number of days after, a specified action. In these cases I eliminated the "no later than" date but retained the "no sooner than" date. Is that consistent with your intent?

b. In other cases under current law, the referendum must be held at a specific election (such as the Spring election) or on a specific date (such as "the Tuesday after the first Monday in the 2nd November following receipt of the petition or adoption of the resolution under s. 117.105 (1)," as provided under 117.20 (1)). Generally, I retain the existing statutory scheme in these circumstances. Is that consistent with your intent?

c. In some cases I make no changes to the referendum schedule provided under current law. For example, I do not amend any of the following:

Section 59.10 (3) (cm) 2., which requires a referendum election to take place at the next spring or general election in the county that is held not earlier than 70 days after the determination to decrease the number of county supervisors is made. See also s. 60.30 (1e) (b).

Section 117.20 (1), which governs the scheduling of referenda related to the consolidation or division of territory into one or more school districts.

Section 198.20, which governs the consolidation of ^{two} power districts.

Section 229.824 (15), which requires a referendum to be held at the first spring primary or partisan primary following by at least 45 days the date of adoption of a resolution related to the taxing authority of a local professional football stadium district.

Please let me know if this is not consistent with your intent.

d. Finally, in other cases current law requires no specific time period to pass between an action and a referendum. Generally, in this category, I retain the existing scheduling scheme, but raise a question about timing in a drafter's note. Let me know if you are not comfortable with this approach.

I look forward to working with you on the next draft.

Representative Bernier:

This preliminary bill draft generally prohibits referenda from being held at special elections and, instead, requires referenda to be held at one of the four regularly scheduled elections: the partisan primary, the general election, the Spring primary, or the Spring election.

The drafting instructions were somewhat open-ended, so please carefully review the draft to ensure that I have drafted the bill to accomplish your intent. I have embedded a number of in-text drafter's notes and questions for your consideration. The questions fall into three general categories:

1. Whether a referendum may be scheduled concurrently with a special election.

Although the bill modifies the definition of "special election" to eliminate special elections at which only a referendum is held, the bill does not explicitly prohibit a special referendum from being called concurrent with a special election to fill vacancies. Current law and the bill do permit a special referendum to be called (see current law s. 8.55 and the treatment of s. 8.06 in this bill). However, I eliminated all references to "special election" in connection with specific referenda; as a result, no statutory provision remains that would explicitly permit a referendum to be called at a special election. Is this consistent with your intent?

2. Whether a statute that requires a vote on a question, a resolution or ordinance, an application, or a contract, but that does not explicitly require a referendum, should be treated as a referendum for purposes of scheduling.

Please let me know if this is not consistent with your intent.

d. Finally, in other cases current law requires no specific time period to pass between an action and a referendum.
